OCONTO IKON or THE GHOST IN THE KITCHEN by Patrick Smith.col/silent/8 min.PREMIERE. A search for the transcendent in the ordinary objects of a house, mostly empty. - PS.

MY MOTHER (1968-1973)by Gregory Gans.col/silent/ 8:30 min. WEST COAST PREMIERE.

PASTEL FILM (1972-1973)by Gregory Gans.col/silent/ 10 min.WEST COAST PREMIERE.I saw the film editor as a "weaver" after having reeled thousands of feet of film back and forth across the rewinds and through the synchronizer.The A,B,C,D rolls intercut and overlapped and the images blurred into color threads weaving across the "loom" of the picture frame.The overall form of this film is structured according to the aspect ratio of that "loom"-the picture frame.But the intent lies not in the overall structure-form so much as in sharing childhood visions I had while driving in the back seat of my father's car and looking out the window. - GG.

FLAPPING THINGS (1974)by Janis Crystal Lipzin. col/silent/9 min.WEST COAST PREMIERE. A film which speaks delicately of the delights in the sensory substances of light,gesture, and texture. Elaboration through duration permits the eye to contemplate within the boundaries of the frame.-JCL.

FRACTURES (1975)by Joseph Gibbons.col/silent/7 min.PREMIERE.In an attempt to make light give of its secrets, its bones are fractured.It is subjected to an exquisite torture. - JG.

UNNATURAL ACTS (1975)by Joseph Gibbons.col/silent/ 11 min.PREMIERE.In five parts, a transformation of source lights from morning to night.Natural images are molested in various perverse ways resulting in a restructuring of the natural images into purely filmic ones. - JG.

SMALL MOVIES & SKETCHES (1974-1976)by Joseph Gibbons.col/silent/9 min.PREMIERE. Reel 2: Including a little flicker for Tony Conrad, and an elliptical road film. - JG.
